Death of a Well Known Physician.

Dr. Samuel Grimeshaw died on Friday evening at Mountville, of old age. He was eighty-nine years old, and was born in Leeds, England, in 1806. He came to this country and settled in Illinois. During the war he became well known in his profession. He spent some of his late years in Ohio, about New Castle, and removed about two years ago to Mountville, where he lived with his grand-son, J. G. Walton. He died without any disease whatever, but became weak and gradually faded away, the machinery of his body having done its work. The funeral took place at Mountville yesterday afternoon. This internment is only temporary, as the body will be taken to New Castle, O., later and finally laid to rest. He was also the grandfather of Samuel Walton, an employee of Simon Rice's Sons, of this city.

THE Supper will begin at 5:30 o'clock, and there will be lots of good things to eat. You'll miss it if you're not at Arion Hall to-morrow night.
